Webro Solutions

Webro has an outstanding reputation for supplying premium cable products and specialist support to AV & Custom Install Integrators. We ensure a professional approach, delivering the competitive, high-quality product solutions and exceptional standards of service expertise that you need to get the job done. Applying extensive knowledge and resourcefulness, we also create new solutions that you might not otherwise be able to source elsewhere.

Highest Technical Standards

Technical reassurance is provided with relevant industry approvals including HDBaseT, CAI and KNX, and meeting all current Construction Products Regulations (CPR) standards. This includes products right up to Class B2ca. Webro has recently joined CEDIA too, the industry's only certifying body.

Dependable Expertise

The AV & Custom Install Team is led by two acclaimed experts in the Custom Install Cable Market. With over 35 years of combined industry knowledge & experience, they've developed many of the most popular cables used today, and supplied some of the biggest custom install projects seen to date. Needless to say, Webro is firmly committed to investing in the future growth and success of the AV & Custom Install sector.

"I'm proud to be leading the development of new Webro products to the industry. We have a clear vision of what we want to achieve, and how we will deliver the exceptional service levels & technical knowledge into the AV & Custom Install Market that our customers in other sectors have come to expect and rely on." Gary Banfield, Business Development Manager on Specialist cables
